

Otwarta konferencja naukowa

Common, Disregarded, Marginalized: Exploring New Perspectives in Anthropology of Plants

7 MAJA 2025 r.

Wydział Historyczny UG, ul. Wita Stwosza 55, aula 1.48

Program:

9:00 – 9:15 Rejestracja uczestników

9:15 – 9:30 Otwarcie

9:30 – 10:40

- Carola Von Der Dick (Online) – Critical Diffraction of Plants in the City
- Edda Starck – In Death I Sweetly Sing: The Plantiness of Music
- Lisanna Unt – How do Thought Frameworks Influence a Person Relationship With Nature? Modernized Society, Cut Flowers and Multispecies Anthropology

10:40 – 11:00 Przerwa kawowa

11:00 – 12:30

- Kacper Świerk – The tsírerí song: Euterpe precatoria palm in traditions of the Matsigenka people (lowland Peru)
- Aleksandra Iczetkin – Plants in the Amazon as entities ontologically unstable: negotiating meanings and relationships
- Anna Przytomska – Coca leaves as a borrowed body: shared subjectivity and relational ontology in the Andes
- Rui M. Sá (Online) – Invasive Plant Species and Wildfires: Towards an Ethnography of Eco-anxiety In Portugal

12:30 – 14:00 Przerwa obiadowa

14:00 – 15:10

- Małgorzata Kowalska – Stonewort meadows
- Hilal Alkan (Online) – Entangled movements: Migrant plants, migrant people in contemporary Germany
- Anna Zadrożna – Rethinking possibilities for more-than-human futures with plants

15:10 – 15:30 Przerwa kawowa

15:30 – 17:00 WYKŁAD

Eben Kirksey: Symbiogenesis with Plants: From Hybrid Agency to Decentered Multispecies Design

Więcej:

